We, the members of the Authors Club, founded and organized in 1882, incorporated under the General Laws of the State of New York in 1887, at the Annual Meeting held January 9, 1896, do adopt the following Revised Constitution :

Constitution

ARTICLE I

NAME AND OBJECTS

SECTION 1. This Association shall be called the Authors Club.

SEC. 2. The objects of the Club shall be the promotion of social intercourse among authors, the acquisition and maintenance of an appropriate library, and the execution of other fitting literary purposes.

ARTICLE II

MEMBERSHIP

SECTION 1. The membership of the Club shall consist of Honorary and Active members.

SEC. 2. Honorary members shall be entitled to all the privileges of the Club, and shall be exempt from the payment of initiation fee and dues. Not more than one honorary member, resident in the United States, shall be elected in any one calendar year : but this limitation shall not extend to the honorary membership of distinguished literary men of other nations who are non-residents. All nominations for honorary membership shall be made by the Executive Council.

SEC. 3. Active members shall be elected either as Resident or Non-resident. Members may be transferred by the Executive Council from the resident to the non-resident list, or vice versa, upon their own application or of the Council's own motion, whenever changes of residence warrant such transfer.

SEC. 4. Any gentleman otherwise qualified, who resides in or within twenty-five miles of the city of New York, may become a resident member. Such a person, who resides beyond the aforesaid limit, may become either a non-resident or a resident member.

SEC. 5. Any person shall be eligible to membership who is the author of a published book proper to literature, or of creditable literary work equivalent to such a book. Technical publications and newspapers, as such, shall not be considered literature for the purposes of this section. No other persons than those comprised within the above-described classes shall be admitted to membership of any kind in the Club. These and all further qualifications for membership and the sufficiency thereof, shall be determined absolutely and solely by the Committee on Membership as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 6. Any member may be dropped from the roll of membership by vote of the Executive Council for non-payment of dues, as hereinafter provided. Membership may also be terminated by vote of three-fourths of the members present at a business meeting of the Club, upon the recommendation of the Executive Council, made after a hearing has been given or offered to the person against whom the proceeding is taken. Notice of intended action by the Club, and of the recommendation of the Council, must be given, with the notice of the meeting at which such action is to be taken, and, at least, one week before the same.

SEC. 7. Resignations from membership shall take effect on notice thereof sent to the Secretary of the Club and payment of all existing dues.

ARTICLE III GOVERNMENT

SECTION 1. The government of the Club, when not exercised by the members in meeting assembled, shall be vested, subject to the provisions of this Constitution, in an Executive Council of nine, who shall constitute the Trustees of the Corporation and all its property. They shall be qualified upon acceptance of election, and shall hold office until their successors are elected. Five members shall constitute a quorum of the Council.

SEC. 2. The trustees in office at the time of the adoption of this Revised Constitution shall continue for the terms for which they were elected, respectively. Three trustees shall be elected at each annual meeting, to serve for three years, and to replace those whose terms expire at that time. They shall be chosen in such manner as the meeting may direct, unless three members call for a ballot, in which case they shall be elected by ballot only.

SEC. 3. The Executive Council, at its first session after the annual meeting in each year, shall elect from its own number a Chairman of the Council, a Secretary of the Club, and a Treasurer thereof. It shall also appoint from the resident membership a House Committee, to have charge of the Club-rooms, under the direction of the Council. It may also, from time to time, appoint such other subordinate officers, and such committees, as it may deem necessary or expedient for the management of the affairs of the Club, and delegate to them such powers as it may deem advisable. But it shall have no power to appoint to the Committee on Membership, nor shall it have any control over that committee's acts on membership. The Chairman of the Council, the Secretary, and the Treasurer shall hold office for one year, and until their successors are elected and qualify, except that termination of membership in the Council, by an incumbent of any of said offices, shall vacate the same. The House Committee shall hold office for one year, and until its successors are appointed and accept appointment.

SEC. 4. The duties of the respective officers and committees shall be those prescribed by this Constitution; those usually appertaining to like offices and committees in clubs and associations, and such as from time to time shall be specially assigned by the by-laws and orders of the Club and the orders of the Executive Council.

SEC. 5. The Executive Council may at any time make, alter, or repeal such by-laws as it may deem expedient for the government of the Club, which, if any, shall be taken, together with this Constitution, as the by-laws of the corporation. The House Committee may make, alter, and abrogate, subject to the approval of the Council, such House Rules as it may deem expedient.

SEC. 6. The Executive Council shall fill all vacancies in its membership caused by death, resignation, or otherwise, for the unexpired term of the member vacating.

ARTICLE IV
ELECTIONS TO MEMBERSHIP

SECTION 1. There shall be a Committee on Membership, consisting of twelve members, no one of whom shall be a member of the Executive Council. Those in office at the time of the adoption of this Revised Constitution shall continue for the terms for which they were elected, respectively. At each annual meeting, four members of this committee shall be elected to serve for three years, and to replace those whose terms expire at that time. They shall be chosen in such manner as the meeting may direct, unless three members call for a ballot, in which case they shall be elected by ballot only.

SEC. 2. At its first session after each annual meeting, the Committee on Membership shall elect from its own number a Chairman and a Secretary, to serve for one year and until their successors are elected and qualify. Termination of membership on the committee shall, however, vacate either of the said offices.

SEC. 3. Vacancies in the Committee on Membership caused by death, resignation, or otherwise, shall be filled by the committee for the unexpired term of the member vacating.

SEC. 4. The committee shall fix its own times and places of meeting, and seven members shall constitute a quorum, provided that a majority of the committee at any time shall constitute a quorum for the purpose of filling any vacancy therein. Any member of the committee who shall absent himself from three consecutive regularly-called meetings shall be deemed to have resigned, and the committee shall forthwith proceed to fill the vacancy by the election of another member, the member displaced not being eligible to fill such vacancy.

SEC. 5. The names of the committee, with the address of its Secretary, shall be kept conspicuously posted in the Club-rooms.

SEC. 6. The Committee on Membership shall vote by ballot upon all candidates proposed for membership in the Club, and three adverse ballots shall exclude. A person so excluded shall not be eligible for election for one year thereafter.

SEC. 7. Each candidate for membership, other than honorary, shall be proposed in writing by at least two members. Each name proposed, either as above, or by the Council for honorary membership, shall be posted, together with the names of the proposers, in the Club-rooms for at least two weeks before its consideration by the committee.

SEC. 8. The proceedings of the Committee on Membership shall be secret and confidential. On the election of a member, the fact shall forthwith be made known to the Secretary of the Club, and shall be posted by him in the Club-rooms.

SEC. 9. No member of the Committee on Membership shall propose or second a candidate.

ARTICLE V — DUES

SECTION 1. The entrance fee shall be twenty-five dollars.

SEC. 2. No one shall be deemed a member until he has paid his entrance fee.

SEC. 3. Non-payment of the entrance fee for two months after notification of election shall forfeit election.

SEC. 4. The yearly dues of resident members shall be twenty dollars, and of non-resident members ten dollars, payable for each year on the first day of January of that year. Provided: that non-resident members shall be excused from payment of dues for the first two years of their membership.

SEC. 5. Any member, resident or non-resident, who may be elected after the first day of June in any year, shall pay only half dues for the year of his election.

SEC. 6. Any member whose dues are not paid within three months shall be notified by the Treasurer, and non-payment of dues within thirty days after such notification shall forfeit membership, upon action of the Council to that effect.

SEC. 7. Any member absent from the United States for a continuous period of not less than twelve months, shall be exempt from the payment of dues for the period of his absence, if he shall give previous notice to the Treasurer of his intention so to be absent.

SEC. 8. The Executive Council may, for good cause, in its discretion, at any time remit either wholly or partly the dues of any member.

SEC. 9. Any member of the Club, upon making a single payment of two hundred dollars, may become a life member and shall thereafter be exempt from the payment of annual dues.

ARTICLE VI

MEETINGS

SECTION 1. There shall be an Annual Meeting of the Club held in January of each year, at such time as the Executive Council shall determine, upon notice of at least one week. In case no other date is selected, the meeting shall be held on the second Thursday.

SEC. 2. Special business meetings of the Club may be called for any time by the Council, and shall be so called on at least one week's notice, upon request of ten members, stating the purpose of the meeting; provided, however, that no such meeting shall be called upon request for any date during the months of July, August, and September, without the affirmative concurrence of the Council.

SEC. 3. At the annual meeting, any and all necessary and proper business pertaining to the Club shall be in order; at a special meeting, only such business as shall be specified in the notice of the same. At all business meetings twenty members shall constitute a quorum.

SEC. 4. No business of the Club shall be transacted when persons other than members are present.

SEC. 5. At all meetings of the Club the Chairman of the Council shall preside, unless the meeting elects some other member as presiding officer; and the Secretary of the Club shall act as Secretary of the meeting.

SEC. 6. Prior to the annual meeting the Executive Council may appoint a committee of five, to consist of one member of the Council, one member of the Committee on Membership, and three who shall not be members either of the Council or the Committee on Membership; which committee of five shall, at the said annual meeting, present a list of nominees for offices to be then filled. This list shall be reported to the Secretary and by him announced to the members, with the notice of the meeting. It shall not preclude other nominations, which may be made without notice at the said meeting.

SEC. 7. The Club shall assemble regularly for social purposes, at such intervals and on such days as the Council shall designate, from October 1st, of each year, to June 1st of the succeeding year. And for each such social meeting every member shall be entitled to invite one guest. In case any member desires to invite more than one, special application may be made to the Secretary of the Club. The Council shall have power at all times to invite and to regulate the invitation and reception of guests; and, if it deems best, to suspend the privilege altogether for any meeting. The members of the Club may also be assembled for any purpose germane to the objects of the Club (and not involving the transaction of Club business) on such special occasions and at such places as the Council may appoint.

ARTICLE VII
AMENDMENT

SECTION I. This Constitution may be amended by a two-third vote of those present (and constituting a quorum) at any business meeting of the Club, but notice of the proposed amendment must first have been sent to each member, with notice of the meeting at which it is to be acted upon, and at least one month prior thereto.

SEC. 3. At the annual meeting, any and all necessary and proper business pertaining to the Club shall be in order; at a special meeting, only such business as shall be specified in the notice of the same. At all business meetings twenty members shall constitute a quorum.

SEC. 4. No business of the Club shall be transacted when persons other than members are present.

SEC. 5. At all meetings of the Club the Chairman of the Council shall preside, unless the meeting elects some other member as presiding officer; and the Secretary of the Club shall act as Secretary of the meeting.

SEC. 6. Prior to the annual meeting the Executive Council may appoint a committee of five, to consist of one member of the Council, one member of the Committee on Membership, and three who shall not be members either of the Council or the Committee on Membership; which committee of five shall, at the said annual meeting, present a list of nominees for offices to be then filled. This list shall be reported to the Secretary and by him announced to the members, with the notice of the meeting. It shall not preclude other nominations, which may be made without notice at the said meeting.

SEC. 7. The Club shall assemble regularly for social purposes, at such intervals and on such days as the Council shall designate, from October 1st, of each year, to June 1st of the succeeding year. And for each such social meeting every member shall be entitled to invite one guest. In case any member desires to invite more than one, special application may be made to the Secretary of the Club. The Council shall have power at all times to invite and to regulate the invitation and reception of guests; and, if it deems best, to suspend the privilege altogether for any meeting. The members of the Club may also be assembled for any purpose germane to the objects of the Club (and not involving the transaction of Club business) on such special occasions and at such places as the Council may appoint.

ARTICLE VII
AMENDMENT

SECTION 1. This Constitution may be amended by a two-third vote of those present (and constituting a quorum) at any business meeting of the Club, but notice of the proposed amendment must first have been sent to each member, with notice of the meeting at which it is to be acted upon, and at least one month prior thereto.

The Libraries

The Authors Club has now four libraries.

Books Written by Members

The first is made up of the books written by members of the Club. These are arranged, alphabetically by the authors' names, in a special set of cases.

Books of Reference

The second consists of a selection of the best and most recent books of reference. This is designed for the use of such members as may wish to do literary work in the Club rooms.

Literary Biography

The third is a collection of literary biography.

At a business meeting on February 20, 1896, the Club established a Library Committee and voted to appropriate three hundred dollars annually for this purpose. The plan originated with Dr. Edward Eggleston, who began the collection with a gift of several rare volumes. A few have been given by other members of the Club; but with these exceptions the books have been bought, generally at very low prices, and the full amount of the appropriation has not been used. For this collection cases were built in the main room, and its extent is indicated by a catalogue printed in the manual for 1899. Some volumes have been added since.

Stoddard Gift

The fourth is the unique and valuable collection of rare books, manuscripts, etc., presented to the Club in 1902 by its senior honorary member, Mr. Richard Henry Stoddard, and of which fuller details will be available on the completion of the catalogue now in course of preparation.
